

Service Offerings – Professional Services

Providing our customers with the right consulting staff, who become part of their project teams and contribute in very constructive ways to their goals and objectives, is a most challenging and equally satisfying task that we at Aplica encounter every day.

To score high points with our customer's satisfaction levels, Aplica's staff augmentation unit works like a well-oiled engine. A brief description of the key players and an overview of our recruitment process are presented here.

Aplica understands that the business of staff augmentation requires a quick turn-around - often times customers' Project Managers are literally 'under the gun' to meet project deadlines. When necessary, Aplica can respond to urgent needs within a day of receiving the requirements....
